The College Board: Connecting Students to College Success

The College Board is a not-for-profit membership association whose mission is to connect students to college success and opportunity. Founded in 1900, the association is composed of more than 5,000 schools, colleges, universities, and other educational organizations. Each year, the College Board serves seven million students and their parents, 23,000 high schools, and 3,500 colleges through major programs and services in college admissions, guidance, assessment, financial aid, enrollment, and teaching and learning. Among its best-known programs are the SAT®, the PSAT/NMSQT®, and the Advanced Placement Program® (AP®). The College Board is committed to the principles of excellence and equity, and that commitment is embodied in all of its programs, services, activities, and concerns.

Directions: You have 50 minutes to answer BOTH of the following questions. It is not enough to answer a question by merely listing facts. You should present a cogent argument based on your critical analysis of the questions posed, using appropriate psychological terminology.

1. The Smith-Garcias are planning for their first baby. Both parents-to-be have had a psychology course and are looking forward to applying the principles they learned from theories and research that address child development.
  - A) Summarize one main idea or finding of each of the following four researchers.
    - Skinner’s operant conditioning
    - Bandura’s social learning theory
    - Ainsworth’s attachment research
    - Baumrind’s research on parenting styles
  - B) Provide a specific example of actions the Smith-Garcias might take to raise their child to produce positive outcomes using each of the theories below to address the corresponding psychological concept.
    - Skinner’s operant conditioning: tantrum management
    - Bandura’s social learning theory: sharing behavior
    - Ainsworth’s attachment research: self-reliance
    - Baumrind’s research on parenting styles: self-esteem

2008 AP® PSYCHOLOGY FREE-RESPONSE QUESTIONS

Abstract

2. We conducted a variation of Asch's (1951) conformity study in which participants made judgments about the length of lines. We randomly assigned participants to one of two conditions and told them that the study involved perceptual abilities. In the first condition, participants estimated the length of lines after hearing five people pretending to be participants (confederates) give inaccurate estimates. In the second condition, participants estimated the length of lines without hearing estimates of confederates. As we expected, participants in the first condition were less accurate in their estimates of line length, demonstrating the tendency to conform to majority influence.

A) How would each element below be related to the specific content of the experiment reported in the abstract?

- Control group
- Deception
- Operational definition of the dependent variable
- Hypothesis
- Debriefing

B) How might participants' estimates of line length in the study be related to the following?

- Cognitive dissonance
- Maslow's hierarchy of needs
